There are two plots available at this residential development. These are the last plots remaining at this park. Park homes are designed to the highest possible specifications, with premium fixtures and fittings. They are modern, high-quality homes and boast a close-knit community that is so valuable to residential park home living.

This park in Cambridgeshire nestles on the edge of the village of Witchford. It is ideally situated for those wishing to enjoy the peace and tranquility of the open countryside and yet still retain an easy access to the local amenities. The residential park home development has been designed exclusively for the semi retired and retired. It has been developed to provide a quiet environment with a friendly atmosphere and has become one of the most sought after developments in Cambridgeshire for park home living for the semi-retired/retired over the age of 45.

The attractive village of Witchford is located just 2 miles from nearby Ely with its ample shopping facilities and the towering Cathedral visible from miles away. Witchford itself provides the idyllic lifestyle usually associated with a quiet and rural village location yet it still has the essential day to day amenities close at hand. There are regular buses in to Ely and from there, further connections and mainline trains to Cambridge and London are also available. Cambridgeshire is a County of contrasts, with a vast array of things to do and places of interest to visit.
